

PRESENTING PICTORIALLY THE NEWS OF THE WORLD

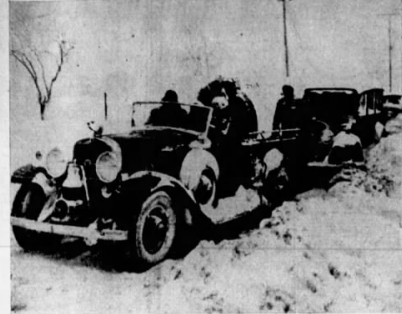

Wide World Photos, Inc.

PUTTING THEIR BEST FOOT FORWARD FOR CHINA: In an effort to induce other New York women not to wear stockings made from Japanese silk, a group of sympathizers with the Chinese in the present Far East conflict, parade through a downtown street wearing non-silk hose and carrying "best-of" placards.

CONNECTICUT TOWNSMEN WHO DON'T WANT NAZIS FOR NEIGHBORS: Two citizens of Southbury parading on one of the town's roads against the proposed establishment of a German-American Band camp within the limits of their community. Voters at a recent town meeting balloted 122 to 41 to create a zoning commission which framed a measure to block setting up the camp.

FIREMEN GO TO THE RESCUE OF PEOPLE BARDOUSED IN SNOWDRIFTS: A Buffalo fire truck leads the way over the snow-covered roads near the city, for an ambulance summoned to rush three seriously ill persons to a hospital at the height of the worst blizzard to blanket upstate New York in many years.

THE CHRISTMAS SHOPPING SEASON IN FULL SWING: Scene at the corner of State and Madison Streets, Chicago, showing the sidewalks jammed with shoppers despite the near-zero weather, as the rush to buy gifts taxed the staffs of department stores and specialty shops.

REDSKINS DEFEAT BEARS ON ICE: Chicago Gridiron to win national pro football crown. Singler, Sunny Bangs, former Texas Christian are, who threw three touchdown passes for Washington in their 22-21 championship victory at Wrigley Field, is stopped as he departs from his specialty to carry the ball. The grizzly was like a skating rink and the players skidded frequently although wearing basketball shoes. Over 15,000 spectators braved a temperature of 15 degrees above zero to watch the battle.

GOVERNOR GABLE VISITS SWEDEN TO DEDICATE GIFT: The Pennsylvania Executive (right), whose ancestors were among his state's first Swedish settlers, with Crown Prince Gustav Adolf at the unveiling of a plaque presented to Gettysburg University by the University of Pennsylvania.

DIZZY DEAN PLAYS A NEW ROLE: The St. Louis Cardinals pitcher takes off his slacker after distributing gifts to 600 underprivileged children who were guests of Mrs. Henry L. Doherty (center) at her annual Christmas party at the Miami Biltmore Country Club, Coral Gables, Fla.

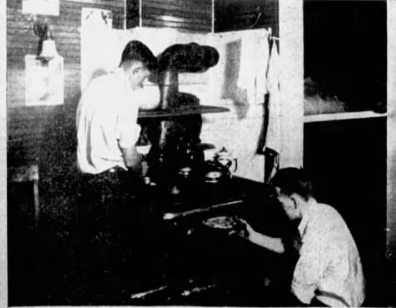

CALIFORNIA STUDENTS CELEBRATE SEASON'S FIRST HEAVY RAINFALL WITH A MED BRAWL: members of the Los Angeles Diesel Engineering School, making the most of a recent rainfall, push lockers (redskins) into a mud pond formed by water on the campus and give them a dunking as part of their initiation.

YOUNGEST PASSENGER STARTS FOR EUROPE: Isadore A. Dubois, of Yonkers, 15 months old, whose mother died soon after his birth, leaves New York on the Westernland unaccompanied, to live with an uncle in Belgium until his father, at right with baby's passport, can reestablish a home for him in America.

QUEEN OF THE WINTER SEASON AT LASSELL COLLEGE: Miss Carolyn Stuart of Litchfield, Vermont, who has been chosen by the students of the college to preside over the annual winter sports activities on the snow-covered campus at Ashdendale, Mass.

CUTTING THE HIGH COST OF LEARNING IN MAINE: Kendrick Y. Hodgefon, a junior, and his brother Kenneth, a freshman, cooking a meal for one of the cabins built by the University of Maine, at Orono, to reduce students' living costs. Each cabin houses four men, each of whom pays $1.50 a week rental. Funds for the erection of the houses were raised by the alumni.

LANDS PLANE AFTER CRASHING IN AIR: William Picone, stunt flier, inspects damage to his plane which collapsed 500 feet in the air over Bendis, N. J., with a machine piloted by J. J. Duhon, New York lawyer, who died when his monoplane crashed in a frozen swamp. Picone and his three passengers were unhurt. The large airplane in the footage of Picone's plane is part of the other machine.

SEEKING THE TOURNAMENT OF ROSES CROWN: The seven candidates chosen from over 1,500 entries, one of whom will be selected as Queen of Pasadena's New Year's Day pageant. The other six will be Princesses of the Court. Left to right: Jerry Fushman, Winifred Good, Winifred Argenteiger, Anita Edmonson, Cheryl Walker, Jean Suedley and Beverly Arnett.
