

FBI Watches Activities Of Nazi Bund

Efforts to Set Up Camps in U. S. Arouse Opposition

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 15 (INS)

—The federal bureau of investigation office here is keeping the activities of the German-American bund, in its efforts to establish a pronazi camp in Southbury, under surveillance, it was learned Wednesday.

Although no special investigation of nazi propaganda in connection with the establishment of the proposed camp is being made, it was learned that the Washington office of the F. B. I. is being kept posted of the developments in Southbury.

Miss Bernice Hubbell, assistant Southbury town clerk, stated that a man identifying himself as an F. B. I. agent asked to examine the deed to the 178-acre plot of land intended for the proposed camp.

Miss Hubbell stated the deed to the land is still in the name of Carl Jung, Stamford architect, who has said he purchased the plot with the purpose of transferring it to the bund.

It is believed that the request of Representative Joseph R. Smith of Waterbury that the F. B. I. investigate the situation was responsible for the agency stepping into the picture.

SOUTHBURY, Conn., Dec. 15 (INS)—By virtue of a town meeting this tiny New England community Wednesday had outlawed the establishment of a pronazi camp within its area.

In its first official action against the establishment of a German-American bund camp, the town, by a vote of 142 to 91, adopted a zoning code banning the camp.
