

Illness Proves Fatal For Mrs. Rocco Diorio

Wife of Prominent Owner of Waverly Inn Dies at St. Mary's Hospital—Funeral Monday Morning

Mrs. Emma Diorio, wife of Rocco Diorio, died this morning at St. Mary's hospital after a brief illness. A native of South Norwalk, she had made her home in this city for more than 20 years.

Mrs. Diorio assisted her husband in the managing of Waverly Inn and her pleasing personality and understanding nature had won her a host of friends among the patrons of the inn. She befriended many people who had been victims of unfortunate circumstances and doing good for her associates was one of her main interests in life. Mrs. Diorio was one of the best known Italian women of the city and the esteem in which she was held was evident in the many tributes paid to her today when news of her death was made known.

She was especially well liked by the children in the district where she made her home and her neighborly spirit was another factor in her outstanding personality.

Mrs. Diorio is survived by her husband; one son, Anthony of this city; two brothers, Adolph Lubrano of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Michael Lubrano of this city; four sisters, Mrs. Mark Scharff of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. Amato Bonomo of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. Vincent Mondini of Staten Island and Mrs. John Eula of South Norwalk.

The funeral will be held on Monday morning at 7:45 o'clock from the home, 370 Washington avenue to Our Lady of Mount Carmel church where a solemn mass of requiem will be celebrated at 9 o'clock. Burial will be in the family plot in Calvary cemetery.

Friends may call at the home after 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Only Casualty In Ford Factory Riot At St. Louis

When Ford workers ran the picket lines at St. Louis, Missouri, a minor traffic accident caused the only injury of the riot. Police Lieutenant Thomas Wren was but slightly injured when he was brushed by an auto carrying workers into the plant. Policemen and pickets may be seen helping him to his feet.

Police Honor Late Lieutenant Murphy

City Joins in Tribute at Funeral Rites Today—Elks, Knights of Columbus Represented at Services

Delegates from the Police Department and leading local fraternal organizations were present today at funeral services for retired Lieutenant James F. Murphy, of the Waterbury Detective Bureau.

The funeral proceeded from the Bergin Funeral Home, 290 East Main street to the St. Francis Xavier church, where a solemn high mass was celebrated at 9 o'clock. Rev. David O'Keefe, was celebrant. Rev. John McTeague, deacon; and Rev. Charles W. Brennan, sub-deacon. A special program of music was rendered by Professor Robert Birt, organist.

Honorary bearers included Controller Daniel J. Leahy, Police Chief William J. Roach, Deputy Chief Daniel J. Carson, Michael Kelly of New York, William Barry of New Haven, and Sergeants Patrick McCabe, Walter Ahearn, John Hayes, and Charles Nolan of the Police Department.

A delegation from the Waterbury Lodge of Elks was headed by Exalted Ruler James F. Neagle and included Past Exalted Ruler R. L. Faltine and Phil Becker, James S. Phelan and George Hynes. Grand Knight Thomas Scadden headed a delegation from Sheridan Council.

Knights of Columbus, including Past Grand Knight Cornelius Maloney and Joseph Scully, Charles Valatis, Fire Marshal Dennis J. Lahey also attended.

The following detail marched in the funeral procession: Sergeant Patrick Hillborg, in charge; Patrolmen Joseph Collins, Anthony Nole, Thomas Podda, John Driscoll, John Fannone, Albert Chouinard, Chris Luddy, Jerry Kenney, John Breen, Michael O'Dea, and Harold Green.

The bearers all lieutenants in the detective bureau were: Connie Shanahan, William F. Foley, Matthew J. Balanda, John Galvin, William F. Pollard, and Edward McElligott.

Mr. and Mrs. James Deenan of New York also attended. Burial was in New St. Joseph's cemetery, with committal services by Father McTeague.

MOTIONS GRANTED BY COURT JUDGE

All Concern Future Disposition of Cases—No Short Calendar Today

Several motions concerning future disposition of cases were granted today by Judge Edward P. Finn, presiding at a short calendar session of the court of common pleas. There was no short calendar in superior court.

Judge Finn granted a motion to cite in a new defendant in the case of Mary Podzunas against the Prudential Insurance Co. of America. A motion for pleading within a week or judgment by default was granted in the case of the Citizens and Manufacturers National bank against James Halloran and others with similar tentative ruling in the case of the bank against the Waterbury Crystal company and in the case of John J. Carroll Sons, Inc. against Stanley Grabaz.

The city of Waterbury was granted the vacating of an order and citation in the case of Frank J. Fanning against the city, and the new order, returnable in January, will name William H. Rubey as co-defendant.

The report of the received was accepted in the matter of Vito D. Telesca against Florence Santavenera and others.

FRED HALL WITH AMATEUR CIRCUS

Hopeville Community Club to Sponsor Indoor Event Monday and Tuesday

Everything is in readiness for the presentation of an amateur circus, entertainment and dance under the auspices of the Hopeville Community club next Monday and Tuesday evenings at Temple hall. A preview of the performance will take place at a matinee for children Sunday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock.

Fred Hall, well known in local dramatic and business circles, will play the part of Bob Strong, owner of the circus. Zacharius Feabody, gouty old reprobate, will be played by Irving Akins; Hermaeus Cloverly, known throughout the play as "squeak" will be played by Val Caron. The part of Virginia will be taken by Bernadine Carew, while Margie, the peanut vendor will be taken by Marie Logan. May Miller and Thomas Albome will take the parts of Lady Van Mildew and Sir Peter Van Mildew. The other characters are: May Earley as Toyo; Rocco Perugini as Tony; Carl Sandeen; Dan Barrett as Bobo; Arthur Hansen as the Constable; Casper Spearo as the Ringmaster; and Norman Boucher as Pete.

"The Circus" is a hilariously complicated affair that turns out all right for everyone. But the complication of events leading up to the climax is one of the funniest things to ever hit Waterbury.

No New Developments In Anti-Bund Fight

Watchful Waiting Attitude Assumed By Opponents of Nazi's Camp Plans in Southbury

Southbury, Nov. 26—Simmering gently, the pot of protest stewed by various residents and others here over establishment of "a Nazi camp" in the Kettletown section, failed to boil today and the aroma of its ingredients, battle-powder, racial spice and commercial yeast, was lost in the fresh wind which caressed the ancient steeple of the 1761 South Britain church where the stirring reached fervid apex.

Leaders of the movement seeking action to expel the German-American bund-ists from their 178-acre property, if and when the camp should be constructed and populated, assumed watchful waiting. Nothing further of active protest is anticipated through the week-end although subscribers to resolutions seeking abolishment of the proposed camp are said to be undergoing solicitation for signatures.

Other Side

"The other side of the picture," is to be reported shortly, it was bruited here today. Until the "other side" has been presented, townfolk are content to rest their case, they remarked.

Further, leaders wern of th opinion that nothing much will develop until there is definite knowledge that the campers plan to undertake semi-military conduct of their Kettletown project. Townfolk continued skeptical of the newspaper-drawn figment which saw hundreds of Nazi uniforms on parade in local streets.

Likewise, the Southburians failed to find excitement over the reported establishment of a larger Nazi camp at Bethany, or some point near

FIRST VICTIM ON NEW 'SPEEDWAY'

Elizabeth Rush Injured By Truck on Willow Street Wednesday Night

First victim of an accident on what has been termed "Willow Street Speedway," Elizabeth J. Rush, 12, of 354 Willow street was reported improving today at Waterbury hospital. She was injured Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock when struck by a truck operated by Alex Gransky, 29, of 21 Oak street.

Supt. of Police William J. Roach recently warned that speeding on Willow street would not be tolerated. Motor patrols have been covering the area to keep the speed decreased. Several residents have complained to police of the speed of cars on Willow street.

Gransky, driver of the truck, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving, by Motor Patrolman Thomas Redding, who investigated. The driver claims the girl ran across the street in front of the truck as he was driving down the hill, near Plaza avenue.

NEW HAVEN ROAD GROSS REVENUES

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 26—(UP)—Although October revenue showed a decrease over a year ago, the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad today reported gross revenues for the first 10 months of 1937 increased $4,377,588 over the same period in 1936.

Freight revenue for the 10 months period was up $2,257,882, while passenger income increased $1,850,850.

For the same period, operating expenses increased $5,046,111, of which $2,541,925 covered maintenance expenses.

Gross revenue of the road for October showed a decrease of $22,286 compared with the same month of 1936. Freight revenues went down $290,379 while passenger income increased $45,212.

Operating expenses for the month increased $949,469 over a year ago due, the road said, to the increased wage award to the non-operating and train employees effective Aug. 1 and Oct. 1.

The deficit for the first 10 months was $5,522,145 compared with $4,444,556, for the same period of 1936.
